Completely powered by the Vodra Token.

Built on Ethereum, and using the ERC-20 standard paired with Polygon's innovative second layer solution, users enjoy all of the features with none of the fees and delays - using just one token.

A token with unlimited creative potential.

Participate in a growing network of content creators.

Vodra connects creators and audiences directly; removing the ability for third parties to influence content. There is now a way for those who are interested in the growth of online entertainment to become directly involved. Support your favorite content creators to see more of the content you want, not the content that advertisers want you to see.
